The above result shows that the teaching faculty of the college seems to be contented on various dimensions such as freedom to adopt new methods of teaching and assessment, opportunities for professional development of faculty members, friendly and non-discriminatory nature of college administration. However, in some fields it needs some improvements and modifications to be done such as: medical, sanitation and canteen facility for staff in the college premises. College library can also be more enriched according to the new syllabus. The overall feedback responses from teachers express their higher level of satisfaction, which is always beneficial for the qualitative development and advancement of any institution.
